

Nuggets head to NBA Finals & Celtics stay alive

The Denver Nuggets beat the Los Angeles Lakers 113-111 in Game 4 of the Western Conference Finals. This was the Nuggets' first playoff sweep in franchise history. They will now play in the NBA Finals for the first time.

After the loss, LeBron James of the Los Angeles Lakers is uncertain of his future and whether or not he will retire. He has played in the NBA close to 20 years and has scored more points than any other player in the history of the NBA.

Woke up with some hardware ? pic.twitter.com/MSPtdaOxzs

— Denver Nuggets (@nuggets) May 23, 2023

In the NBA Eastern Conference Finals, the Boston Celtics won 116-99 over the Miami Heat. The Heat still lead the series 3-1 and are in a commanding position heading into game 5. The winner will play the Denver Nuggets.